MRS. ELLA SWEETSER

The community was saddened on Wednesday evening, December 25, by the passing of Mrs. Ella Sweetser at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Russ, South Woodstock. Although her health had been poor for more than a year the end came after an illness of about a month.

Mrs. Sweetser was born in Woodstock 81 years ago, the daughter of Samuel and Sabra Dacey Swan.

Surviving besides the daughter with whom she made her home are a son Frank Sweetser of Bryant Pond, six grandchildren, five great grand children, one niece and two nephews. She was a member of the Eastern Star Bryant Pond and the Methodist Church.

The Past Year In Review

The past year leaves changes for the better or worse as all years do. The list given here is of course far from complete, as any such chronicle is compiled at short range before many events can be seen in their true value. The re-opening of the Stowell-MacGregor mill property has been of value, with a hope of increased business there. The Skillington mill is still idle but a lively activity continues at the Newton and Tebbets' West Bethel mill. During the year the town lost Rowe's store, which closed its doors March 31 after 75 years of good service to this vicinity. Erection of the Gould Academy field house and other building and rebuilding has furnished employment to many. Altogether the community has fared well in 1940, with grounds for good hopes in the future.

BETHEL'S HOLIDAY LIGHTS PLEASING

The colored lights which were placed over Main street early in December have aroused much favorable comment. The expense of this innovation was borne by the business people of this village, the funds being collected by F. Perley Flint of the Chamber of Commerce. With this good beginning it is hoped that such holiday decoration may become a permanent custom. This fund also supplied the beautifully decorated tree at the corner of Main and Railroad streets.

Other attractive decorations included the tree of the Lions Club at the head of Main street in its usual location, a tree at the Methodist church, and colored lights at the Congregational church. Several stores and homes added to the gala appearance.

With this initial installation of street decorations there was no circuit available for the lights so it was necessary to leave the bulbs burning day and night. This of course resulted in more burned out bulbs than would have occurred otherwise, but the company did well to take care of the many replacements.

SCOTT A. COOLIDGE

The community was shocked on Friday to learn of the death of Scott A. Coolidge, one of Upton's highly respected citizens.

Scott A. Coolidge, the son of the late Alva and Katherine Coolidge, was born in Upton, Maine, June 5, 1878. He was educated at Hebron Academy and Shaw's Business College. He became time keeper for the Great Northern Paper Company at Millinocket. Later he went to Berlin, N. H., as shipping clerk at the Cascade Mill. On October 17, 1907, he was united in marriage to Annie Mae Pinette, daughter of the late Charles and Bridget Pinette of Berlin, New Hampshire. For twenty-two years he was care taker and chauffeur for A. L. Salt, former president of the Graybar Electric Company. In 1937 he returned to his native town where he has since been residing.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, the I. O. O. F., the Grange, and Maccabees.

Mr. Coolidge was a man of jovial, happy disposition, with a smile and a cheery greeting for everyone. He endeared himself to all and was a general favorite. His untimely death is a blow to his family and friends.

Funeral services were held Monday at two o'clock from the Upton Union Church with the Reverend Duke officiating at the ceremony. The committal service was by the Masonic Lodge of Bethel. The bearers, all of them Masons, were Edward Warren, Howard Douglass, True Durkee, Leroy Bragg, Cleveland West, and Bert Brawn. Mrs. Owen Thurston was the organist, and singing was by Mrs. Cleveland West and Miss Jean Readie. The church was filled with relatives and friends who came to pay a last tribute of love and respect. The many beautiful flowers attest the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mr. Coolidge is survived by his wife; a daughter, Doris, a teacher in Stearns High School, Millinocket; a sister, Gertrude, of Boston, Mass.; and two brothers, John Elton of Waterbury, Conn., and Harry of Errol, N. H. All were present for the services.

Interment was in the Upton Cemetery.

G. A. Basketball Season Starts

On Friday, January 3, Gould Academy will open its 1941 season against a strong Alumni quintet. The team this year is an inexperienced group and the setback caused by the forced vacation due to the epidemic of measles, has also handicapped the team. The loss of four star players in Wentzel, Palmer, Tucker and Swan from last year's League Champions have left some big holes in the lineup to fill.

The team resumed practice last Monday and will be working hard to get back into shape again after the long "lay-off." The postponed games with the Alumni and Norway High will both be worked into the schedule so no games will be lost.

The Alumni game on Friday will be one of the best games of the season as many former Gould stars are at home for the holidays and a strong team of past performance will be on hand to show their wares. Those who worked in starting positions last night were Ed Robertson, Bob Browne, Robert King, Don Stanley, and Charles Smith. Other members of the past will be on hand Friday to topple their Alma Mater if possible.

Preserving Paintbrushes.

QUESTION: What steps should be taken to preserve and keep in good condition paintbrushes, after they have been used? How is it possible to get out the color from a brush before starting to use it in a different color? Or should the brushes be kept separately for each color?

Answer: When a job is finished, clean the brush by wiping the excess paint off on the side of the can, rinse thoroughly in turpentine, and then in three changes of benzine or clear gasoline, being extremely careful of fire when doing so. Follow by shaking out and hanging out to dry. If a brush has been thoroughly cleaned, it can be used for another color, although to be on the safe side it is better to have a brush for each color. To avoid difficulty in cleaning brushes, never dip the brush so deeply that paint will get under the ferrule.

Stained Driveway.

Question: I would like some information on how to clean our concrete driveway. There are rust stains, automobile oil and grease spots.

Answer: For rust removal, dissolve one part sodium citrate in six parts of water and add six parts of commercial glycerine. Mix a portion of this with enough powdered whiting or chalk to form a paste, and spread on in a thick coat. When dry, replace with fresh paste, or moisten with the remaining liquid. A week or more may be required to remove the stain.

Remove fresh oil stains by covering them with an inch or two of dry portland cement. For old stains wash with a solution of two pounds of trisodium phosphate to the gallon of hot water. After cleaning, remove all traces of the solution by rinsing with clear water.

Copper Porch Screens.

Question: Evidently the wire on the porch screens had not been treated. White framework is black from stains. I am advised to go over the wire cloth with two parts of spar varnish, one of linseed oil and one part of turpentine. Clean the woodwork with ammonia and water. Paint with aluminum paint, then two coats of white paint. Would this be your method? Must the ammonia and water be rinsed off?

Answer: Before varnishing the screens, be sure they are free of dust and grease. For washing the woodwork, use a half-cup of ammonia in a quart of water, and rinse thoroughly with plenty of clear water. The coat of aluminum paint will not be necessary. Whatever remains of the stain will not "bleed" through the new paint.

Soot in Chimney.

Question: I have a sloped roof and find it difficult to clean out my chimney. Is there any chemical on the market which I can use to burn out the soot from the chimney?

Answer: Soot removal compounds can be purchased at plumbers' shops or heating supply houses. However, for best results the chimney should be cleaned by hand. In cleaning out a chimney, where the roof is sloping, it is best to build a platform. One end of the platform is made without legs or supports, which rests on the roof; the other end is made with legs of the proper length, and is placed against the chimney. This arrangement will give you good footing.

Crack Filler.

Question: In kitchen and bathroom there is a separation caused by the failure of the material at the point where the tiling meets the floor. How should this be filled?

Answer: If the floor is also tile, small cracks can be filled with a cement intended for tile work, to be had at a hardware or paint store, and large cracks with a paste made of portland cement and water. If the floor is wood, fill the cracks with caulking compound.

Household News

By Eleanor Howe

Making candy is really outside the realm of general cooking, but with a little guidance, even an amateur can work real magic with sugar and water. Simply by changing temperature and the method of handling, a wide variety of fondants, fudges, and hard candies can be made.

Utensils for Making Candy.

Saucepans should have broad bottoms, and should be large enough to allow for "boiling up." The inside surface should be smooth, because rough spots may cause candies to stick and burn.

Measuring cups—use standard measuring cups for successful results; accurate measurements are essential.

Spoons and spatulas—wooden spoons are desirable for candy making because they do not become uncomfortably hot, nor does the wooden spoon handle cut into one's hand during beating. Use standard table-spoons and teaspoons for measuring. A medium-sized spatula is a help in scraping candy from kettles, and lifting candy from the pan.

Baking sheets, platters and pans—ordinary cookie sheets provide a good surface for pouring hard candies; large platters may be used for taffy, which is to be taken out and pulled, or for fondant which is to be beaten.

Candy thermometer—a thermometer is essential in order to obtain uniform and good results in making candy.

Candies are classified as "creamy candies," such as fondant, or fudge, and as "taffies" and "hard" candies, like nut brittle and lollipops.

In making creamy candies two rules must be observed: cook the candy to a definite temperature, and cool to room temperature before you begin to beat.

Brazilian Molasses Balls.
(Makes 24 small balls)
1½ cups sugar
¼ cup hot water
¾ cup light molasses
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ cup butter
3 pints popped corn
1 pint Brazil nuts (sliced)

Dissolve sugar in hot water. Add molasses, salt and vinegar and cook to soft crack stage (270 degrees). Remove from heat, and add butter. Stir syrup slowly into popped corn and Brazil nuts. Mix well, and shape into balls.

Lollipops.

(Makes 1½ dozen)
2 cups sugar
¾ cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
¼ teaspoon oil of cloves or oil of cinnamon
Red or green coloring

Put sugar, syrup, and water in a sauce pan. Cook, stirring just until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking over very low heat, to 310 degrees on a candy thermometer. Wash down the crystals that form during cooking, using cheese cloth which has been wrapped around a fork or spoon. When the candy reaches 310 degrees, remove from heat, add flavoring and coloring and mix very quickly. Pour into small buttered muffin pans, filling them only ¾-inch deep. As soon as the lollipops begin to set (which will take only a few minutes) loosen them from sides of pan and turn out on table top. Insert the pointed end of a small skewer into the side of each lollipop, working it in carefully to avoid breaking the candy. It will be necessary to work quickly.

Milk Chocolate Marshmallow Candy
½ pound broken milk chocolate
1 1-ounce square bitter chocolate
½ cup walnut meats (broken)
8 marshmallows, (cut in halves)
Melt milk chocolate and bitter chocolate together in the top of a double boiler. Remove from flame and add walnut meats and marshmallows. Stir gently until thoroughly mixed. Drop by teaspoonfuls on wax paper. Serve when cool.

Taffy Apples.

Place a meat skewer in end of each apple. Cook together 1 cup sugar, 1 cup white corn syrup, ¼ cup butter, and 1 cup coffee cream until mixture reaches firm ball stage (246 degrees). Stir carefully to avoid scorching. Remove from flame and dip each apple into mixture and then in cold water.
Butterscotch Nut Marshmallows.
1 cup light brown sugar
½ cup cream
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon salt
½ pound marshmallows
¾ cup nut meats (finely chopped)
Place brown sugar, cream, vanilla extract, and salt in a saucepan. Cook slowly, stirring frequently, to the soft ball stage (236 degrees). Remove from flame and place saucepan over hot water to keep mixture from cooling. Coat marshmallows with the butterscotch mixture and then roll immediately in the finely chopped nut meats. Place on a buttered platter until cold.

Made Rather Bad Guess In Dark of the Night

Podkins had been walking about all day looking for lodgings. When darkness came he was still searching. At last he noticed a card in a window.
"Good evening," he said to the woman who appeared at the door in answer to his knock. "I'm here in reference to the card in your window."
"Oh, yes! How many might you want, sir?"
"Only one. You see, I've had a row with my landlady—"
"But you're not going to pelt her with it, are you, sir?"
"Pelt her with a room?"
"Room? I've got no rooms. The card says 'New-Laid Eggs.'"

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—thrown heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling, feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

H. W. Prentiss, Jr., President, Armstrong Cork Company: "American industry has repeatedly pledged its wholehearted support to the national defense program. It has moved swiftly to meet all the demands that have been made by the government to date. But industry could do more if we are, in the opinion of government, actually faced with emergency war production. How fast industry diverts its efforts from production for normal needs to armament, depends upon how seriously government regards the immediate future. Whether production for Great Britain or production for our own defense is the more important, is for government to decide."

J. Howard Pow, President, Sun
Oil Company: "Planning as applied to the other fellow has always been tolerated in fact, among those groups who do the planning for the other fellow, planning has been downright popular. There is no surer way of ruining a man than for someone else to plan out his life. There is no surer way of ruining a nation than for the government to plan for the lives and the activities of its people, for a nation can be no greater help than are its people."

Paul G. Hoffman, President, Studebaker Corporation: "You can't conscript either brains or enthusiasm. What is there that leads us to believe that the methods we have found best in peacetime will not also be best in an emergency?"
Let's play with the most efficient method we know."

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

A meeting of the Men's Brotherhood was held Monday evening at

Gordon, Bradley Hall, entertainment, Maurice Brooks, Eugene Norton and Edwin Brown. The following nominating committee was appointed to report at the next meeting: Arthur Gray, Eugene Norton and H. I. Bean.

bridge at South Bethel Sunday.

ness sawing wood by steam-power in the old mill yard back of Emery's livery stable.

West Bethel A. J. Haskell, who occupies the store under Grange Hall, came near losing his stock of goods by fire Thursday evening. A large benzine lamp fell and was broken, and the burning oil made a lively blaze, but was soon extinguished. Mr. Haskell was slightly burned on his face and hands.

North Albany A. four horse team of George Leighton's broke into Broken Bridge Pond last Thursday. They had a narrow escape as the water was very deep.
Mr. Leighton lost two horses last week by their being sluiced down the causeway, caused by the bridge chain coming off. They were dead when they reached the bottom. The harness and sled were badly broken.

"GEMS OF THOUGHT"

The deeds of charity we have done shall stay with us forever.
Only the wealth we have bestowed do we keep; the other is not ours.

The man who confers a kindness should be silent concerning it; he who receives it should proclaim it.

Give work rather than alms to the poor. The former drives out indolence, the latter industry.

"Charity suffereth long and is kind," but wisdom must govern charity, else love's labor is lost and giving is unkind.

That charity is bad which takes from independence its proper pride, and from mendicancy its proper shame.

The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NEWS

JACKSON-SILVER POST & UNIT—NO. 68

The American Legion Brigade, sponsored by the Jackson-Silver Post, A. L. and drilling in West Paris is steadily growing, now having over 80 members. After the 100 mark is reached all additional signers will be placed on the waiting list. Over 70 enthusiastic men took the floor to drill last Thursday, and as interested visitors there were ten Legionnaires from Buckfield who will start a brigade in their town if the people so demand. Jan. 14 there will be a benefit show at the West Paris Grange Hall for the Home Guards, with Shaw's Trio of Brunswick, and WCOU radio fame. The special attraction committee is Emil Heikkinen, Roy Dymont, Maynard Chase, and Vernon Smith.

January is Legislature month on the Legion's calendar and our National Executive Committee approves a 4-point program. National preparedness and its importance to America was the keynote of the meeting held in Indianapolis Nov. 21-22.

Representing the membership, members of the committee set before the American Legion as a 1941 program:

1. National Defense.
2. Government protection for World War widows and orphans.
3. Civil Service veterans preference and employment.
4. Americanization, including further restriction of immigration, continuation of the Dies Committee, and increasing of the personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

RUMFORD AMERICAN LEGION

Napoleon Ouellette Post and Auxiliary No. 24 members met Dec. 23rd, 7:30 p. m. at the home of Commander Roy to fill 25 bushel baskets with food, each containing one 10 lb. turkey, a peck each of apples and potatoes, 2 turnips, 2 bunches of celery, 4 lbs. pork, 1 bag flour, 2 lbs. mixed nuts, 3 lbs. grapes, 2 dozen oranges, 1 lb. butter, 2 lbs. lard, 3 lbs. rice, 2½ dozen eggs. On Dec. 24th at 9:30 a. m. Post and Unit members met at Commander A. J. Roy's home for a group picture for the Legion paper, taken with food baskets and 15 boxes of clothing, gifts, and toys, which was ready for distribution to needy families in Rumford and Mexico. The Post sponsored a free movie show 2 hours of entertainment. The show was given with the compliments of James O'Brien, manager of the Strand. Chairman of Show committee Comrade C. Clifford, assisted by Post members, gave each child a bag of candy at the close of the show.

The Auxiliary's activities for disabled veterans and dependents are interesting and varied. There is deep satisfaction in doing so much for the country. The Auxiliary needs fullest strength for this work this year. It needs the influence of every available woman behind its plea for generous treatment of the disabled. We are hoping that all the wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of veterans will be with us this year as we strive on for "Those who have borne the battle." Rumford Unit is over the top in membership 100 per cent. The next regular meeting will be held in Legion Hall, Jan. 14th. The Post will hold their next meeting in Andover, Jan. 5th with Andover Comrades.

THE LOW DOWN

FROM HICKORY GROVE

There are quite a few signs, here and there, that things are getting better. I do some of my predicting from the calendar. If the ice company, and the laundry, and the R. R. company, etc., are getting out a calendar for next year, it is a good omen. It shows that they expect to last that long, at least.

And this year we are getting more calendars. I feel better.

But the calendars, so far, they don't have 1942 in fine print on the back. That makes it look good for 1941 and dubious for 1942.

But besides looking at calendars as an omen on what to expect, I been nosin' around at service stations, and grocery stores, and at Joe Paxton's bank here, and at other places—and just about every place they all check up with the calendar. Business is gonna be good in 1941.

So all in all, I feel pretty good. By the end of 1941 maybe we will get a few new congressmen, and maybe less meddlin' in everybody's business by old Sambo himself and that will be a good omen for 1942.

THE COUNTRY OF ROMANCE

There is something about this country of romance that stirs the imagination. In its history is the stuff of dreams. Its future is still beyond imagining. Nothing like it has ever happened in the world before. Nothing like it will ever happen again.

It's rich this country of romance, and powerful. But these are not the things that make it irrefragable to the people of other less romantic lands. It's something in its spirit. In its dreams. In the freedom it takes for granted, in a world where freedom of any kind has become something very rare.

Little people farmers, the makers of soldiers half a world away are thrilled with stories of this fabulous land. Their eyes brighten when they talk of it. The great men of this land are "giants in the earth." It's a land where great ideals have been realized and where humble people have found a chance to do the things they dream of only in other countries: where a great system of industry produces comfort for even the humblest. The great documents of this land are not the ones that papers. They are great epic poems. They glow with promise. They speak of man's rights. They even mention the pursuit of happiness. The pursuit of happiness in a document of state! It is incredible to those who haven't grown up taking it for granted.

It's easy to believe in this romantic land... in its ideals. Its institutions... its way of carrying on the every-day affairs of life.

A little talk—a little explanation and men and women know that this is where the promise lies; that this country with its brief romantic history and its inexhaustible riches, is the hope of the world.

But it must be talked about. It must be explained, not only to the millions of foreign born people within its borders but to millions of others who were born here. The barrage of criticism and actual untruth from overseas is having an effect. It must be counteracted by people who believe in the American way for America is the country of romance.

The finest article in the world must be advertised. And even a

Washington Digest New AAA 'Alabama Plan' Promotes Soil Betterment

Crop Payments Based on Land Improvement; Roosevelt Suggests U. S. 'Loan' War Material to England.

Not a Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON.—You may have heard about the "Alabama plan" of the Triple A which some have said is an attempt of reversing the policy of paying farmers for "not doing" and rewarding them for "doing." I find that the department of agriculture doesn't go that far. Officials there describe it rather, as paying farmers less for "not doing" but assuring them benefits for taking part in a constructive program.

This is the way one member of the Triple A tells the story:

Down in Alabama they're trying, on a state-wide basis, an experiment in balanced farming that may eventually be a pattern for farm programs in other areas. It's known as the "Alabama Plan" and it's simply a plan based on good farming practices, which over a five-year period, provides for building up the soil and otherwise improving the individual farm to the point where it becomes a productive unit.

The Alabama plan is not complicated. It is part of the AAA farm program. It carries further than ever before the conservation work done under the AAA program. As under previous AAA programs, farmers will receive conservation payments for planting within their acreage allotments of special crops, such as cotton, tobacco, peanuts, wheat, and potatoes. However, under the so-called Alabama Plan, in operation for the first time in 1941, full payments made to Alabama farmers will be contingent upon carrying out of certain good farming practices.

Planned Conservation.

The difference between the Alabama Plan and the general conservation program is about the difference between going into a cafeteria and picking out a dish or two that you especially like and sitting down to a well-balanced meal. Heretofore, farmers in Alabama and other states have had available to them certain practices which they could use to earn the payments available under the farm program. They have used many of these but naturally they have not always picked out the best combination of practices for the land. That was the cafeteria method of soil conservation. Under the Alabama Plan, the conservation program worked out for each farm represents a balanced type of farming. That's the well-planned meal type of conservation.

Not only is the conservation well planned for each year, but it is worked out for five years in advance. The Alabama Plan, like most parts of the farm program, came from suggestions from farmers themselves who have observed the operation of the farm program and made suggestions on it from time to time. Alabama farmers have felt the need for more planning and more balance in their conservation work and the AAA program has been adapted to make it possible for this state-wide experiment in conservation to be undertaken beginning in 1941.

Requirements of Plan.

Here's what the Alabama farmer has to do to avoid deductions in his conservation payments for 1941:

1. Grow erosion-resisting crops each year on an acreage equal to at least 25 per cent of his cropland.
2. Properly terrace all cropland in the farm having a slope in excess of 2 per cent.
3. Establish or maintain perennial soil-conserving crops on at least one acre for each 15 acres of cropland.
4. Establish or maintain permanent pasture on at least one acre for each 15 acres of cropland.

Requirement No. 1 has to be carried out each year, of course, but numbers 2, 3, and 4 are to be done over a five-year period. One-fifth of the requirements under points 2, 3, and 4 must be carried out each year.

Deductions in the farmer's conservation payments will be made on the basis of 5 per cent of the payment for each 10 per cent by which he fails to carry out the 1941 requirements.

The Alabama Plan is resulting in more co-operation among farmers in many cases. For example, operators of small farms are not able to maintain heavy equipment required in terracing. However, groups of farmers can form an association to buy this equipment, and can pay their share on the basis of the amount of time they use it.

President Announces 'Loaned' Aid to Britain

It was late as I hurried across the paved space in front of the executive offices. The waiting room was jammed. Overcoats were piled high on the huge mahogany table presented to the President by the Philippine General Aguinaldo.

We were soon crowding through the inner waiting room and across the hall and into the President's oval office. The moment I had wormed my way forward and looked at the President, I was sure he had something important to say. He wasn't laughing and chatting with the men pushed close around his desk. He looked very serious.

Finally the last reporter had come in. The President began to speak. He spoke slowly, deliberately; informally but seriously, announcing his long-awaited plan for lending or leasing implements of war to Great Britain.

Because I had to broadcast almost immediately afterward I was kept busy taking notes, but as I wrote down the words that would be history some day, I suddenly felt that nothing was real around me.

It couldn't be that the other side of the world was burning up—that a proud nation which claimed to rule the Seven Seas was begging for help—that I was actually writing down on a piece of copy paper a gigantic plan to bring that help. It was simply too big to grasp. How could any one human being hope to sit down and draw up a scheme that involved these millions of people, that must answer the criss cross, conflicting hopes, beliefs, demands and desires of half the globe? . . . my pencil kept on forming words and suddenly I saw they were writing down a simple little anecdote about a lot of men in a smoking car making bets.

This seemed still more unreal but it is the President's way of trying to illustrate frightfully complicated things with very simple, everyday experiences. He told how, when he was the young assistant secretary of the navy back in 1914, war in Europe was suddenly declared and he was hurrying back to Washington.

In the smoking car with him were a number of brokers and bankers—"the best economic brains of the country" the President called them. They were saying that no war could last long. The bankers could stop it in two and a half months for no nation could fight long without money in the bank.

Money Not Essential.

This, the President said, showed how wrong the accepted beliefs were. History shows, he said, that no country ever lost a war because of lack of money.

And then he went on describing his plan for lending or leasing implements of war to Great Britain instead of lending money. He had no notes before him but it was plain he had spent plenty of thought on his plan, that it was the result of study and thought.

Whatever the merits of the plan may be, its one merit seemed to be this: it stilled for a while at least, something that came very near hysteria in Washington and what might have been hysteria in England, too. For while it did not increase by one machine gun bullet, immediate aid to Britain, it promised them "economic co-operation" and restored their morale.

And it stilled, too, the angry demands of the pressure groups in this country which would push us right up to the very verge of war. They could hardly complain if London was satisfied. And yet, on the other side of the picture, it did not even imply a single immediate act which would bring us any nearer the war than we were at the moment for the President made it clear that congress would have to pass upon it.

IT WAS a bride of ten years who reminded me of blanket protectors. I say bride because her home still has the immaculate freshness of a bride's house. Her wool blankets have never been washed or cleaned, yet their soft light colorings show no sign of soil. She brought out some long pieces of cotton material; "I baste these over the tops of the blankets," she said "and change them every few weeks."

I thought of some dainty bed linens that I had seen all trimmed in flower sprigged cotton print. Why not make flowered blanket protectors to harmonize with blanket colorings? Here is one that would go with either rose or blue. It is easy to hide basting stitches that fasten it temporarily to the blanket by slipping them along in the pink or blue binding as shown. One length of material as long as the width of the blanket will make a pair of these protectors. A half

A Non-Partisan Editorial Review of the Events of Each Week, Illustrated

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst, and not necessarily of this newspaper.

BOSS:
Becomes Servant

Selection of Viscount Halifax as British ambassador to the United States was a case of the boss becoming the servant and vice versa, for Anthony Eden was named as most likely candidate for succession to Halifax's post as foreign secretary.

Halifax left the cabinet, the last of the Chamberlain appeasement crew, a man for whose scalp the British anti-Chamberlainites had howled for months without success.

Washington conceded the great ability of the new ambassador, and predicted success for him here, while admitting that American public opinion at the outset might recall his appeasement tactics before Munich.

It was announced that Britain might add the post of minister to its staff in Washington. Both ambassador and minister had been the custom in Britain's Paris office, but hitherto Washington has had only an ambassador.

Just what Eden has been up to in Egypt and the near East has never been made clear, but it must have been successful, because observers pointed to the fact that B. E. (before Eden) things had been at a standstill in the eastern Mediterranean sector, and after Anthony arrived on the scene, of a sudden the British rose up, pelted the Fascists, and sailed them way back into Libya.

The British effort against the Dodecanese islands also was crowned with a great deal of success, and Eden is believed to have had a finger in that pie as well.

So now he is to be brought back as foreign minister from his present post as secretary for war, and this will be odd, for he will go back into a job he held under Chamberlain, and which he vacated because he openly expressed himself as out of sympathy with the then premier's appeasement policy.

SECONDS:

In the Ring

Italy was not, perhaps, knocked out of the war by England, Greece, but her seconds, at any rate, jumped into the ring. Presence of large numbers of German troops was confirmed in many quarters.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND—A "Pioneer" squad is shown marching to work after a night raid on a Midlands town. The duty of these men is to clean up the debris and make roads passable. They also demolish parts of buildings left standing by the bombs but which might constitute a hazard. Often they work right through the raid while bombs drop.

Purpose of these was a bit dubious, but consensus was that some would be used in actual fighting in the Battle of Greece and the Battle of Africa, and that others would be employed to bolster home morale.

Germany, in admitting official aid to Italy, let it be known that Axis partners must stand together, and that in sending aid to Il Duce's tottering armies Germany was but repaying aid sent to her by Italy in the form of "hundreds of pilots and planes for cross-Channel bombing."

It was too early for the general effect of these reinforcements to be noted in the war reports. British mechanized forces, backed by naval guns from the Mediterranean and by naval and army planes from overhead, pushed on rapidly into Libya.

The fall of Salum forced an entry into Italian territory, and the British, using the German tactics of the fight through Flanders, shot ahead down the coastal roads 175 miles within the border, completely surrounding and cutting off some 20,000 troops in Bardia, principal port.

Bardia was placed in a state of siege, and the British main forces after leaving sufficient men to prosecute the reduction of Bardia, later to be reinforced from the rear, pushed on toward Tobruk and Derna.

Marshal Graziani and his main forces were still able to keep ahead of the British, but the latter claimed enormous numbers of prisoners, killed and wounded Italians, totaling around 50,000, great booty, all accomplished with a British loss of only 1,600.

Just where the Germans would enter the picture in the Battle of Africa was not clear, with the British naval forces apparently in charge of the coastline and unmolested, and the better ports either in British hands or under siege.

CLAUSE SIX:

And National Defense

When President Roosevelt wants to do something drastic and final and something that has not been done before, he has a system all his own.

He calls his legal advisers in, tells them what he wants to do, and then has them find a law for it.

He has created a new job, called the Office for Emergency Production Management, and put into it William S. Knudsen, wizard automobile production man, with instructions that he is to be the "czar" for U. S. defense, and all lights extending before him will be green lights.

Knudsen took the job (which he almost had before the new order) grabbed his new authority, and told America to "roll up its sleeves and go to work" building planes and munitions.

"There must be no appeasement," he said, and he called the war in Europe "irreconcilable" in character, and asked the nation to "recognize the full gravity of the crisis" which resulted in additional power being given to his organization.

One writer said that, seven months ago, when Knudsen was given the defense chairmanship, he gave that funny half-smile of his and asked President Roosevelt "who's the boss?" The President said "I am." And Knudsen took the job, it was said with magnificence.

These mingivings have been more than justified in the defense industry lag. Now, it is held, Mr. Roosevelt has said to Mr. Knudsen, in effect, "I was wrong before. Now you are the boss!" And now Knudsen will go ahead with full authority.

As to Clause Six, and the part it played, some of the Washingtonians questioned the President's authority to give Knudsen supreme power. He pointed to the Second Reorganization act. Now, that act did not give the President this power specifically, but acting under its authority the President issued an executive order (which he WAS empowered to do).

Clause Six of this order read: "(6) In the event of a national emergency, or threat of a national emergency, the President may create such office for emergency management as the President shall determine."

GREEK:

Aims Revised

The Greek war cry of "Tirana by Christmas" had to be revised, when Italian resistance stiffened, and the skittish Evzones had to fight ahead every inch of the way at bayonet point.

Whether it was German reinforcement or not was not clear, but as the Italians neared the hopping off places they fought harder and the Greek advance, while continuing steady, was not as spectacular.

The Greeks reminded one of a football team nearing the goal-line and meeting a stiffened defense. Enormously important objectives had been achieved, however, Pogradetz on the north and Argirocastro on the south, Porto Edda and other vital points having fallen into their hands.

Maps showed a good third of Albania taken back from the Italian invaders. Immediate objectives were the port town of Valona, and the inland bases of Tepelini and Chirmara.

Greek generals claimed the Italians had moved out of Klisura, but that the Greeks were not entering the town until the Fascists had been stormed from their positions on the heights to the rear.

Former Greek army officers now in the United States placed utmost importance on the conquest of Tepelini, an important road junction point. They stated categorically that if the Greeks capture Tepelini, further Italian resistance in Albania would be impossible.

On the other side, experienced military men pointed out that beyond Tepelini and toward the coast line the Albanian plains, and it was in this territory that the Fascists' mechanized forces, especially if aided by German tanks and dive bombers, might succeed in halting the Greek advance.

The British fleet boldly ranged up and down Italy's private Adriatic, bombing Valona with thousand-pound naval shells and receiving no answering fire. The outcome still was in doubt, though dispatches continued to favor Greece.

TRENDS

AIRPLANES—At San Diego, Consolidated Aircraft corporation announced a $14,000,000 building project doubling its present capacity.

WINE—At Livermore, Calif., Schenley Import corporation gave impetus to the American wine industry by purchasing the Cresta Blanca Wine company.

PRODUCTION—At Washington, the Federal Reserve board reported that during November industrial production hit a record high, 132 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

ARMS—At Washington, British officials completed a master list of 33,000,000,000 in new war orders to be placed in the U. S., including 12,000 combat planes.

HOOVER:

Speaks Again

Herbert Hoover, announcing himself as definitely and forever out of politics, took the speaker's stand again to appeal for a general U. S. sentiment in favor of making plans to feed Europe's hungry—without letting any of the food get into German stomachs.

The former hero of Belgian relief told the people he believed this could be accomplished, but that it would not be the work of a week or a month—but would require months of planning before it could be carried out.

Millions of men, women and children in the overrun countries of Europe will be facing real hunger, cold and starvation before the next harvest, and if lives are to be saved, said Hoover, America must do the saving.

Hoover's statement as to the imminence of starvation went unchallenged, and news dispatches from Shanghai, for instance, told of 12,500 bodies being found, dead from starvation, more than two-thirds of them Chinese children, in six months alone in the one city.

First official step in this direction was the trial credit given recently to Spain, and if sentiment is to swing in favor of Hoover's plea it will have to be seen how the Spanish experiment works out.

Hoover received ovations of cheers and applause, especially when he launched himself into an appeal for employers and workers to take the same steps against strikes and lock-outs that they did during the last war, and when he stressed the vital need of speeding up production of necessary materials now under contract and on order.

INVASION:

Threat Once More

The Pope's appeal for a Christmas Armistice having failed, both Germany and England blaming each other for its non-acceptance, the Yuletide abroad was punctuated by the dropping of Christmas tree ornaments of an ugly and explosive character.

In London it was reported that several Christmas carol parties were wiped out in a hail of bombs from Heinkels and Junkers planes, while the Reich countered with the report that the British had bombed a Berlin cathedral just a night or two before the Holy Day.

Prime Minister Churchill, talking to Commons on the state of the war, took occasion to warn the British public that he considers the threat of German invasion far from over, in fact that he believes Hitler's forces may try to come over the Channel any dark night.

England is ready for the invader, the beaches are well manned, but he urged watchfulness in the extreme. There were disquieting reports that Britain was having some labor trouble in defense factories, and Bevin, also speaking in Commons, laid this to Communist activity.

However, observers on this side of the water wondered if perhaps Bevin were not glossing over an ugly amount of disgruntled resistance to work under halls of bombs, while the army is sitting peacefully and safe on the beaches awaiting an invasion that is not taking place.

It's said to be a British joke: "the man is a coward, he quit his factory job and joined the army."

Others in the U. S. wondered how much of Churchill's warnings and fears might not be aimed at this country, to spur the nation on to still more and more vigorous aid to England.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

A few years ago America was overbuilt and real estate was going begging. Today a housing shortage is one of the handicaps of defense industry. Here are a few reports:

Seattle (plane center) reports "this time next year they'll be sleeping in tents."

San Diego, Calif., (planes) says auto parking lots are jammed, hotel space 80 per cent gone, portable houses and dormitories needed.

Detroit, Mich., (smoking tanks, airplane parts) rents going up 14 to 40 per cent, authorities being asked to "freeze" rentals.

Portsmouth, Va., at huge Navy Yard, officials report losing 100 workers daily. "Can't find decent places to live."

Hartford, Conn., estimates 14,000 jobs open. Hartford people say "you can't get a rent anywhere."

LONDON—Protestant and Catholic churchmen jointly agreed for the pope's plan for permanent peace after the war on five principles: disarmament, right of all nations to life and independence; creation of international institutions; arbitration of all disputes; a peace treaty evolved under the principles of divine law.

BERMUDA—The British have taken from the SS Excambion Oscar R. Stabler, 35, the ship's barber, a German-born naturalized American citizen.

MALTA—Prince Philip of Greece is first member of the royal family to join the British armed forces. He's 19 and has been assigned to active duty on a battleship.

BELOGRADE—The Danube has frozen over, and all traffic halted. This will complicate Germany's supply problem for the rest of the winter.

MEAN BARDIA—An Italian deserter told British forces besieging Bardia that the town was "worse than Yasavus."

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The other day Admiral Harold R. Stark, the Chief of Naval Operations, made this observation: "Dollars cannot buy yesterday." The Admiral was referring to the defense program in its relation to the Navy. But that truism can be applied with full weight to the defense program in toto. We have appropriated dollars in unprecedented quantities. But we seem to be wasting beyond price—Time.

The defense drive, in short, has bogged down. The optimistic estimates of last summer are not being realized. For example, a short time ago it was forecast that soon after the first of the year we would be producing 1,000 military airplanes monthly. But, Defense Commissioner Knudson now announces that the real figure will be 30 per cent lower—700 planes per month. That is the situation in practically all defense lines.

What are the main causes of the defense bottlenecks? You can find just about any answer to that question that suits you. The explanations offered in Washington seem to fall into the following categories:

First, some circles believe that business still has fears of what this Administration may do—that it is worried about new crackdowns and radical experiments. In addition, business works under legislative, tax and regulatory handicaps which did not exist in 1917.

Second, the President is being criticized for his failure to appoint a chief of the Defense Commission, with full powers. That, it is said, is the only way to escape division of responsibility, overlapping of activities, and wasted effort. Some criticism of this kind is coming from circles which generally are strong for the New Deal.

Third, it has been said that neither labor nor industry as yet fully realizes the gravity of the situation, or is as yet ready to make the necessary sacrifices. Mr. Knudson indicated that in a recent statement. The tremendous enthusiasm for total defense which appeared here when France fell has apparently abated to a considerable extent.

Fourth, a number of important industrialists, such as Mr. Sloan of General Motors, have pointed out that industry is not geared to war production. Our industries are peace industries, used to operating under normal conditions. The change from a peace economy to a war economy is a long and difficult process.

Fifth, the American public is still confused, and does not know exactly where it stands. It doesn't know whom to believe. And concerted public pressure is needed to make any great effort a success.

Whatever the reasons, it is plain that the defense program has fallen on evil days. All authorities are certain that something drastic must be done—but many of the authorities are in entire disagreement as to what. At the rate we are going now, it will be years before anything resembling a first-class military and naval establishment can be built. The Army has been forced to change its plans for taking in conscripts several times—it has found that it cannot obtain the necessary facilities as fast as it figured in the first place. And the news has recently come out that many of our naval ships are sadly lacking in protection against air attack.

Eyes are on Washington now, looking for a lead. And Washington today means the President and his advisors. He is the only one who can shake up the Defense Commission and organize the program. It is felt that he must act before many more weeks pass.

American aircraft makers and designers are learning many a lesson from this war. The planes sent to England have not been satisfactory—that is, they have not been comparable in effectiveness to the first-class British and German ships. As one British authority said, the Americans make first-class flying machines, but third-class fighting machines. Reason: According to the English, the American planes have been inadequately armored and under-gunned, and have had too many complicated controls to distract the attention of nervous pilots confronted with the enemy.

These defects, according to officials, are being corrected in the new ships. There will be fewer blind spots, more armor, more guns and fewer gadgets. Also, performance will be materially stepped up. Some of the American planes which have been publicized as 400-mile-an-hour performers have under war loads and war conditions done little better than 300. It is taking time to iron the bugs out of our newer type big engines.

The British are now replacing their famous Spitfire pursuit ships with a new type, which is supposed to exceed 400 miles under full load, is extremely maneuverable, and has an unprecedentedly fast rate of climb. Rumors say that the Germans also have some types of which great achievements are expected. German planes are reported to be doing well.
